DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claims 2 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Claim 2 recites the limitation "said lower melting point high-thermal conductor" in lines 10-11 of the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.
4. Claim 2 recites the limitation "said higher melting point room temperature magnetic refrigerant material" in lines 11-12 of the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.
5. Claim 2 recites the limitation "the metal" in line 13 of the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being by anticipated by Wada et al. (WO 03/009314A1).

Regarding claim 1, Wada discloses a composite material including a high-thermal-conductor (e.g. Al, Cu, Ti; page 18, lines 19-20) and a room temperature magnetic refrigerant material (page 19, lines 1-2), wherein the room temperature magnetic refrigerant material is nested (i.e. molded together) with the high-thermal-conductor to obtain the composite material (page 19, lines 5-8). See page 18, line 10 – page 19, line 8 for further clarification.

8. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wada et al. (US 6,826,915). See column 6, lines 47-67 for further clarification..

Regarding claim 1, Wada discloses a composite material including a high-thermal-conductor (e.g. Al, Cu, Ti; col. 6, lines 57-59) and a room temperature magnetic refrigerant material (col. 6, line 60), wherein the room temperature magnetic refrigerant material is nested with (e.g. molded together; col. 6, line 61) the high-thermal-conductor to obtain the composite material (col. 6, lines 66-67).

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 2 and 12 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. Claims 3, 4, and 6-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
